

When using samples from the Square One Music Library the basic rule is that samples can be used for personal use and beat leasing/sales without any additional clearance required. However, if samples from the Square One Music Library are being used and shopped to artists on major labels or qualifying independent labels, or meet the criteria spelled out below, additional clearance will be required. Please reach out if a work using a sample from the Square One Music Library meets the criteria below.

Thank you and enjoy!
